

Funmi Ge

Biography

Funmi Ge is a talented singer and songwriter who has performed with several renowned bands over the past few years. She has toured with Afrobeat legend Tony Allen and collaborated with Dele Sosimi's orchestra, bringing her unique voice to the world of Afrobeat music.

Currently, Funmi Ge is working on her debut album, The Way of Life, which explores themes of unity and shared human experiences. The album, inspired by her life and guided by her spiritual connection with the Holy Spirit, reflects her desire to inspire positive change through music. The title, The Way of Life, represents a path toward a better lifestyle, with much of her sound being influenced by the iconic music of the '80s.

In her Afrobeat journey, Funmi Ge has graced prestigious stages, performing at events such as the Glastonbury Festival with Tony Allen, the Royal Festival Hall, Queen Elizabeth Hall, Astoria, Barbican Hall, Stratford Circus, and Jazz Café. She has also expanded her performances internationally, with appearances in Berlin and Yugoslavia. Her experiences in the Afrobeat scene have deepened her creative process and furthered her passion for songwriting.

Born in Nigeria to a dancer and singer, Funmi Ge's artistic journey began early. She started singing and dancing at the age of six. At the age of eight, she moved to England, where she honed her talent by participating in school competitions. Drawing inspiration from her life experiences, Funmi pursued a Music Business, Art, and Law program in 2008–2009, which gave her a solid foundation to advance her career.
